This little group of collected essays and addresses is a mine of clear, stimulating thought on things architectural, the art of living, housing problems, the arts and hand;crafts and other pertinent matters. There is an astonishing array of workable ideas which in action would contribute much to definite form in living. As if to emphasize the importance of arrangement and order in our lives, and the fundamental relation of all art to living, Professor Lethaby puts first the essay entitled Architecture as Form Form in Civilization, by V. R. Lethaby. Oxford University Press, London, 1922. in Civilization --striking the keynote of those that follow: Towns and Civilization, he says, are two words for nearly one thing: the City is the manifestation of the spirit of its population and the larger body it builds for its soul. Our...
