Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Plea: For Social and Popular Repose; Being an Address Delivered Before the Philomathean and Eucleian Societies of the University of the City of New York, July 1, 1845 Dear Sir: In accordance with a resolution of the Philomathean and Eucleian Societies, under which the undersigned were appointed a committee, we respectfully request for publication, a copy of the Oration you delivered before them last evening. While we tender you our sincere thanks for it, we shall feel still more obliged to you, if you would do us the honor to permit the Oration you have so eloquently pronounced, and we have listened to with so much pleasure, to go forth connected with the names of the Societies, in a permanent form, and to a wider audience. Gentlemen: I defer to the judgment of others, quite against my own original resolution, in acceding to the request you have made for a copy of my Address, for publication. I beg leave to tender to you, and those whom you represent, my grateful acknowledgements for the very kind manner in which my Address was received by your Societies at its delivery, as well as for the obliging terms in which a copy has been solicited. I am willing now to hope that its publication may do some good, since I have found that its sentiments, so little suited, in general, to the forward-march temper of our people and our times, seem to have been not altogether distasteful or unacceptable even to the glowing minds of young men.
