Excerpt: .the bulletin board of the department. To illustrate how standards are defined, production FORMS VTT and VTH: Individual records of an addressing clerk's work are kept compactly on the back card (Form VII). Operators receive a bonus for passing an amount fixed as a standard day's work. Individual daily records are summarized by the week on another card (Form VIII). Different forms are used for the different classes of work. Even with such a system it was found that letters cost ten to twelve cents each, including rent, salaries, stamps, stationery and equipment in the calculation It is said to be almost impossible to reduce the cost of letters in any case beneath six cents records kept and the bonus figured, take the ease of a clerk in the addressing section. A clerk working on listed operations fills in a card (Forms VII and VIII) where the operations are designated by number, leaving columns headed standard and production vacant. She may work on one or more operations during the day, yet one card, approved by the superior, is sufficient. These daily cards are forwarded to the employment and instruction department where they are completed and checked, and where, at the end of the week, the work is summarized for each clerk and the bonus figured. No set standards to cover dictation are made. But accurate record is kept on a form tabulating the amount of work and the time spent for each...
